

What's Happening with Education Reform in Vermont?

A Conversation with Public Assets Institute

Wednesday, May 27th at 6:30 pm

Jaquith Public Library 122 School Street, RM 2,
Marshfield, VT 05658

There are major changes to public education in Vermont on the horizon, but it can be hard to understand the different proposals on the table and how they will impact our schools, kids, and communities.

Join Steph Yu of Public Assets to talk about the latest proposed changes and when they might happen, the things worth preserving in our current system, and what tweaks are needed to make it fairer right now.

While this conversation is focused on how we pay for schools, it's in service of ensuring all kids have access to the best education we can provide.

For more information email: jaquithpubliclibrry@gmail.com or call: 802-426-3581
or visit our website: jaquithpubliclibrary@gmail.com

Public Assets is a non-profit, non-partisan research organization based in Montpelier. Their mission is to improve the well-being of all Vermonters and advance racial, social, and economic justice through research, fiscal analysis, public engagement and empowerment, and by developing and promoting policies that state government can enact.